On May 6, 2019 Matt Murphy, a Director, President and Chief Executive Officer of Marvell Technology Group Ltd. ("Marvell"), sent an e-mail to employees of Aquantia Corp. ("Aquantia") in connection with the proposed acquisition by Marvell of Aquantia announced May 6, 2019.

May 6, 2019

Aquantia Team:

I'm very excited that Aquantia and Marvell have signed a definitive agreement to join forces. Together, we are going to create a compelling portfolio of Ethernet PHY products for the growing automotive, enterprise infrastructure, data center and access markets.

Our companies' PHY product lines are highly complementary, and our combined team will be the best in the world when it comes to mixed-signal design, with highly differentiated skills and proven capabilities in high-speed Ethernet networking.

Over the past few months, I have had the pleasure of getting to know Faraj Aalaei and it's clear that our organizations are closely aligned in culture, talent and work ethic. Together, we will build one integrated team. In this spirit, I'm especially pleased that Faraj has agreed to stay on and lead the integration of our two teams.

This combination is expected to close before the end calendar 2019. Until then, we need to operate as two separate companies.

Leaders from Marvell will be traveling with Faraj to as many Aquantia sites as possible, for town halls. Together, we will share our vision for the combined company and answer your questions. You will also be receiving regular updates from your leadership team.

Again, we at Marvell are so excited to unite with Aquantia and look forward to getting to know you in the months ahead. Together, we'll be greater than the sum of our parts, accelerate innovation, and help our customers build a better future.

Thanks,
/s/ Matt Murphy
